

New book:

Europe - North Korea Between Humanitarianism and Business?

Edited by:
Myungkyu Park, Bernhard Seliger and Sung-Jo Park

Published: summer 2010, 327 pages
Publisher: LIT.

Table of contents

Part I: Human Rights, Humanitarianism

1. The EU and Inter-Korean Relation: Agency, Method and Theory, Myoung-Kyu Park
2. Training for Economic Reform: The Role of European and other Actors and NGOs, Peter M. Beck and Nicholas Reader
3. Instrumental Rationality versus Solidaric Rationality: focusing on European NGOs in North Korea, Sung-Jo Park
4. Human Rights Crisis in North Korea: Basic Understanding from the Perspective of International Law, Dae Soon Kim

Part II: Economic, Political and Ideological Relations between East/West Germany and North Korea, and their Legacies

5. Reunification in a Constitutional State, Kolja Naumann
6. Differences in Self-Confidence: East Germany, North Korea and Concepts of the Nation Bernd Schaefer
7. Integration of North Koreans into the South Korean Society through Vocational Training: A German Model for Korea? Soong-Hyung Yi

Part III: Capacity-Building and Development

8. Capacity building for economic change in North Korea, Bernhard Seliger
9. Specific structural features and future development perspectives of the South Korean province bordering North Korea: the Case of Gangwon, Joseph Jurczek
10. Building up North Korean Foreign Trade Institutions from the Scratch: Lessons from New EU States and the Role of Capacity Building, Ralph M. Wrobel
11. Creating a Good Bank for North Korea (and a bad bank within) - Creative Capacity Building as a Domain for Asian-European Cooperation, Bernhard Seliger

Part IV: Investment, Business, and Business Schools

12. The Nampo-Pyongyang Corridor: A strategic area for European investment in DPRK Stanislas Roussin and Cesar Ducruet
13. The North Korean IT-sector: "a hidden diamond". Some observations from a Dutch Consultant, Paul Tjia (GPI Consultancy)
14. Software and Animation in North Korea: EU Firms' Activities, Korea Computer Center Europe and Nosotek JV Company and EU's 'Route to DPRK', Sung-Jo Park
15. From Communist Cadres into Capitalistic Managers?: The Case of Western Business Schools – Pyongyang and Rajin/Sonbong, Joon-Young Hur

Ordering the book

For information on ordering the book, please contact Paul Tjia, the author of Chapter 13: The North Korean IT-sector: "a hidden diamond": info@gpic.nl.

European business mission to North-Korea (September 2010)

From 11-18 September 2010, GPI Consultancy organises a unique trade & investment mission to North-Korea. With individual matchmaking, company visits, network receptions and dinners. The annual Autumn International Trade Fair in Pyongyang will be visited as well. The program is available.

Myungkyu Park, Bernhard Seliger, Sung-Jo Park (Eds.)

Europe – North Korea
Between Humanitarianism and Business?

Global Cultural and Economic Research

LIT